THE CITY OF GREENVILLE

Greenville—Hub of Eastern North Carolina

“The welcome that awaits your arrival is but the preface to a new book of life that will be written from your happy days here. We say in all sincerity, Our Greenville, Yours if You Come.”

GREENVILLE has a population of over 12,000 and has more than doubled its growth in the last few years.

GREENVILLE has fifteen fine churches, and the religious life of the city is an active one.

GREENVILLE is the county seat of Pitt County, which County produces and sells more bright tobacco than any in the world.

GREENVILLE has excellent transportation facilities. Two important railroads, and seven hard surfaced highways radiating in all directions.

GREENVILLE because of its location is recognized as one of the principal distributing centers of the State.

GREENVILLE's educational advantages has gained for it recognition as one of the principal centers of learning of the South.

A CALL TO ARMS

“See one physician like a sculler plies
The patient lingers, and by inches dies,
But two physicians like a pair of oars
Waft him more swiftly to the Stygian shores.”

At no time in the history of our Association when the need for a united front was more imperative than it is at the present time. The coming meeting in the beautiful city of Greenville by the sea, promises to eclipse any other meeting in so far as presenting the economic situation as it affects the members of our Medical group. Tangible suggestions and recommendations will be made, and you will leave at the close of the 1934 meeting better equipped from both a scientific and economic angle to serve your patients.

I am looking for you on Tuesday evening, June 12, when the Convention will open, and I want you to remain until Thursday evening when it will be officially closed. In the interest of economy, doctor, please bring this program with you.

ON TO GREENVILLE, June 12, 13, 14.
